

A GUIDE TO SOPHE'S NEW CORE PORTAL

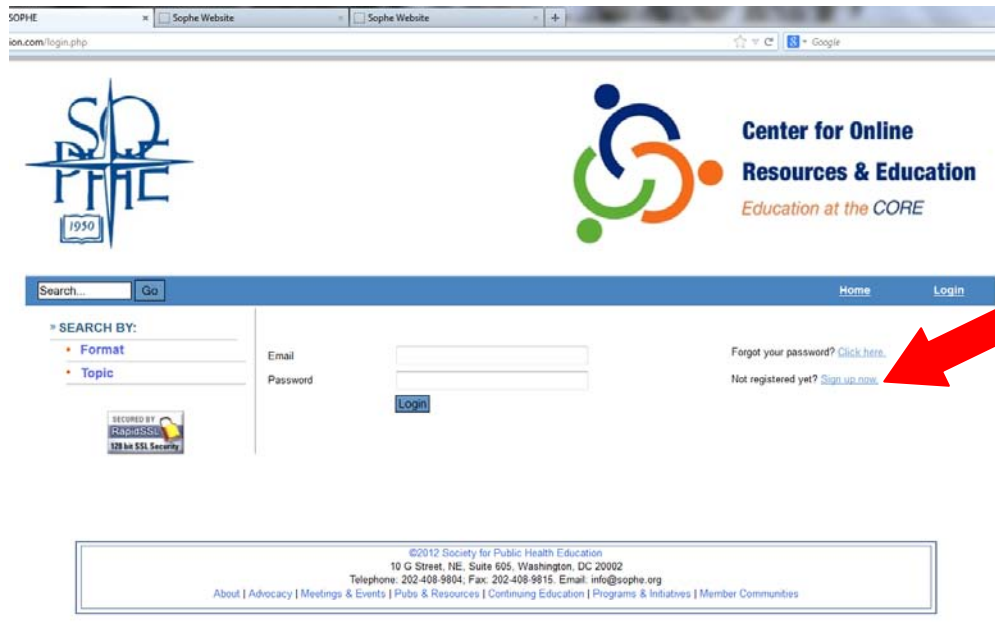

Go to www.sophe.org/education.cfm and click on the link to take you to CORE, SOPHE's Center for Online Resources and Education.

Is this your first time using the new CORE portal (launched in December 2013)? If yes, you'll need to create your own username and password, which is not linked to your sophe.org login or to a previous CORE account.

On the CORE portal, click "Login" in the upper righthand corner.

If you already have a new CORE username and password, login to your account here. If not, click on "Sign up now".

Complete the profile, to include your SOPHE Member ID (if you are a National SOPHE Member) to qualify for significant discounts on CE fees. Also include your CHES or MCHES number and/or your NBPHE number to claim CHES, MCHES, and CPH credits, as appropriate.

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the URL `ofhrsaand146seffectiveenhancedhealthcommunicationwebcourse(10232)`. The page title is "A Preview of HRSA's Effective Enhanced Health Communication Web Course". The course is featured by Leonard G. Epstein, MSW, and has a length of 60 minutes. The description states that HRSA has developed a unique approach to effective health communication that integrates communication between providers and patients. The approach recognizes that health care communication is not solely a health literacy issue but an integration of health literacy with cultural and linguistic factors. HRSA's mission, "To improve health and achieve health equity through access to quality services, a skilled health workforce and innovative programs" is reflected in communities across the country where HRSA's programs are working to level the playing field for people who are underserved, geographically isolated, and medically vulnerable, including lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender people. This webinar will introduce participants into HRSA's effective communication tools for healthcare professionals.

The page also features a search bar with options for "Format" and "Topic", a "SECURED BY RapidSSL 128 bit SSL Security" badge, and a "Produced By: SOPHE" link.
